Guest Lecture:
Professor Gareth Williams MA, MD (Cantab), ScD, FRCP (Lond) FRCP (Edin)
Clare (1971)
Emeritus Professor of Medicine and Honorary Senior Research Fellow in English at the University of Bristol.
“Paralysed with Fear: the story of polio”

Gareth has written or co-authored over 20 books, including three aimed at the general reading public. You may recognise him from his appearances on radio and TV, which include The Mary Berry Story; and BBC documentaries on The Georgian Revolution (with Lucy Worsley) and polio vaccines (with Stephanie Flanders). His next book: “Unravelling the Double Helix: the lost heroes of DNA”, is due out in April. (See attached biography).

Meeting to close by 4.00 pm at the latest

A charity box for donations for Dr. Jenner’s House and Museum will be sited in the room. Andrew Marr believes the House to be ‘the fifth most important place in human history’; it is facing closure (see attachment).
